

Expect Decisive Battle of Mexican Revolution Today

Thirty Thousand Federal Troops Estimated to Be in Field as Generals Prepare to Attack Torreon—Government Sees Possibility of Rebel Retreat Along Railroad to North.

Mexico City, March 16 (AP).—Battle for possession of Torreon, Coahuila, was expected to be under way by tonight.

Three federal generals last night were within thirty miles of the city from the east, while to the south and southwest forces of General Calles were only a little further away.

The government expected the battle to be the decisive encounter of the rebellion. It is estimated as many as 30,000 federal troops would be in the field in an attempt to take the city from General Juan Gonzalez Escobar, rebel chief, and his 5,000 men, of whom 1,000 were said to be poorly equipped. Scouts reported a lack of artillery, machine guns, and armored cars and the city was said to be in poor shape for defense.

Possibility of retreat along the railroad leading from the city north to Chihuahua was seen by the government, which regarded such a retreat as the rebels' only chance to evade crushing defeat. Some observers even thought that when federal troops arrived they would find Torreon abandoned and be able to occupy the city without even as much as a skirmish.

Escobar's Movement Fails. It was announced that a government scouting movement, designed to prevent escape of Escobar's forces, had failed and that the railroad to the north was open.

There was a feeling among some, however, that Escobar would put up a real battle to retain possession of Torreon and that perhaps the only encounter of the rebellion would be fought here. Retreat to Chihuahua, it was pointed out, could mean little less than eventual dispersal of the rebel leaders into the United States.

General Calles himself was expected to enter the battle later than Generals Almazan, Saturnino Cedillo and Lazaro Cardenas, who were to begin it from the east. General Calles yesterday established his headquarters at Durango City, which is occupied earlier in the day in another "bloody battle." Although sections of the 150 miles of railroad between Durango and Torreon were torn up by the rebels it was said the highways had not been destroyed.

Durango Rebels Cannot Reach Torreon.

The rebels left Durango in full retreat over the railroad spur running southward out of the city of Tepic, the line to Torreon having been cut by the federalists. This apparently removed them from the action at Torreon, since to reach the city they would have to cross a hundred miles of mountains and reach another railroad spur which would take them by way of Parral, Chihuahua, back into Coahuila.

On the west coast the rebels withdrew to San Blas and the federal forces reoccupied Cuicuilcan, capital of Sinaloa. The drive against Mazatlan apparently has failed, possibly because of withdrawal of forces to meet defection of General Olachea from the rebel camp in the north.

American on Bombed Train.

Meanwhile reports of the first outrage since the outbreak of the rebellion were received here. A train which left Thursday night for Laredo was bombed near Obregon, a small station in Guanajuato, 150 miles north of here. No damage was done and the train proceeded after some delay. Arthur Schoenfeld, former counselor of the United States embassy here, who is going to Laredo as minister, was aboard the train.

Both Forces Use Radio.

Juarez, Mexico, March 16 (AP).—The battle of the air is on in Mexico. Federal radio stations in Mexico City are broadcasting propaganda to the rebel territory. Rebel leaders are meeting the attack with electrical equipment which produces better static than nature.

TWO YOUTHS ARRESTED FOR BREAKING MILK BOTTLES

Shortly after 10 o'clock Friday evening Francis Brady, 20, of 48 Prince Street, and John Benkert, 22, of 42 Smith Avenue, were placed under arrest by Peter Hoeg, night watchman at the Municipal Building, who charged the youths with malicious mischief in breaking milk bottles by throwing them against the tracks of the New York and Delaware railroad on Halsey Avenue, near the Municipal Building. This morning the hearing in both cases was adjourned to Monday morning in police court.

SEVERAL KILLED WHEN TOKYO EXPRESS DERAILED

London, March 16 (AP).—Tokyo dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Company state that several persons were killed today in the derailling of four coaches of the Tokyo express on the Sanyo railway near Shimomaki. The dispatch said that earlier reports of 200 casualties were greatly exaggerated.

Hoover Relies On Many Advisers

Max Insubstantial Doubts for All the Facts of a Situation—Circle of Advisers Not Limited to Persons Within the Public Service.

Washington, March 16 (AP).—President Hoover neither is playing a lone hand in the conduct of the affairs of the national government nor is he relying largely upon the counsel of a single adviser, as have some of the chief executives of the past.

With the engineer's insatiable desire for all the facts of a situation, Mr. Hoover is consulting with those who can supply them and whose opinion and advice can be of material assistance to him.

He has placed in his cabinet men on whose judgment he relies, especially in the carrying out of administration policies in the conduct of their own departments, and he is in frequent consultation with a number of them outside of the regular cabinet session hours.

It was to avail himself more readily of the fund of experience and knowledge in legislative and governmental affairs that he invited Vice President Curtis to sit in at cabinet meetings where major policies of administration are discussed and frequently worked out.

Consults "Elder Statesmen." But the president is not limiting his circle of advisers to those within the public service. There are many men on the outside to whom he has turned, or is apt to turn, as vexing problems arise. Some of these might be termed the "elder statesmen" of the country as well as of his own party, while others are personal friends with whom he has associated before he attained to the presidency.

Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state and internationally known jurist, is one of those on whose counsel the president is believed to rely. They are close friends. Mr. Hughes' family is in Washington and often has been a guest at the Hoover home on S Street. Recently he spent the night at the White House and discussed with the president the world court, the proposed law enforcement inquiry, and undoubtedly many other subjects.

Consultations With Elmer Root. Another former secretary of state with whom Mr. Hoover has consulted often is Elmer Root, now overseas in an effort to work out a basis from which may be realized an ardent desire of the chief executive—adherence of the United States to the world court.

Mr. Root has had a wide experience in governmental, diplomatic and international affairs and his counsel has been sought not alone by leaders of his party, but also by several presidents since the days when he served as secretary of war in the McKinley cabinet and secretary of state in the Roosevelt administration. Another of the "elder statesmen" who generally has been credited with a place in the Hoover circle of counselors is William Howard Taft, the first man to be both president and chief justice of the United States. For years Mr. Taft and the president were neighbors who dropped in upon each other for informal calls and sociable chats. Their friendship dates back before the time the former president was appointed chief justice.

FOCH WEAKENING BUT IN NO IMMEDIATE PERIL

Paris, March 16 (AP).—Seven doctors who have attended Marshal Foch in his illness and two new ones met for consultation at his bedside this morning. Later they said that though the marshal was "in no immediate peril" he was weakening gradually.

His two-months' illness has slowly sapped his strength, they added. One of them said that the marshal had undergone neither a great setback nor shown any permanent improvement during the last three weeks. His heart, however, it was said, was "not so strong as it was."

They found his temperature to be 99.3 and his pulse 92. The patient had a very restless night, but nevertheless he was extremely tired this morning. He failed to take any interest in things about him.

INCOME TAXES BREAK RECORD IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 16 (AP).—A record-breaking $42,643,757.15 in income taxes had been paid into the office of the collector of internal revenue of the first Illinois district when the tax deadline was reached last midnight. The sum exceeds by more than $8,000,000 the amount paid at the same time a year ago. The number of persons who made returns was 154,369. The collector believes many thousands more returns are still in the mails.

CANADA INCREASES HER AIR FIGHTING FORCE

Ottawa, Ont., March 16 (AP).—Canada's fighting force will be increased to nine squadrons and six army cooperation machines through delivery within the next few weeks of seven new craft. Five new Sikorski and two Atlas all-metal aircraft are now under construction in Great Britain, and will be the last word in fighting machines, said a statement issued at Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters.

Sanitarium on Tonche Mountain

Wealthy Hebrew Society Said to Be Negotiating for Sale of Robert K. Story Property on Which to Build Summer Home for Afflicted Jews.

It is rumored that a very rich New York Hebrew Society is negotiating with Robert K. Story, who owns a summer home property called Ed-Ma-Wanda Lodge on Little Tonche Mountain at Ashokan, for the acquisition of this property on which to build a Jewish Sanitarium or summer home for afflicted people of their race, and in connection therewith, to establish a large bungalow colony.

Mr. Story practically owns the entire reservoir side of Little Tonche Mountain which has an elevation of about 1,500 feet, sloping level up to the top of and over the mountain and has about one hundred wonderful home sites and on which there is an abundant supply of water from numerous springs. In fact, it is about the only locality in that section wherein a reliable and inexhaustible water supply is obtainable. This property immediately adjoins the property on Big Tonche Mountain, bought about a year ago by Mr. Piccaini, a Philadelphia millionaire.

The scenic views from this property are regarded as being as fine, if not the finest to be had in the Catskill Mountains where in on a bright clear day the Berkshire Hills in Massachusetts, about forty miles away, can be plainly seen, and there is also an unobstructed water and mountain view of about thirty to thirty-five miles south and west of the property, making a wonderful panoramic view of the entire Ashokan reservoir. The property is at about the same elevation as the Lake Mohonk House, which is plainly seen directly to the south.

Mr. Story has had several opportunities in the past to dispose of this property for colonizing and other purposes from people who appreciated its wonderful location and surroundings and who have offered unusually attractive prices for same but which he has declined, feeling that its wonderful health giving location was equally as attractive to him as to anyone else.

It is understood that he has recently acquired some large holdings in an ocean front acreage on Long Island and has acquired a very handsome home there and possibly on account of same, will accept the present offer for the Ashokan property which he holds.

Mr. Story has been for many years a valuable addition to the Ashokan section as he has done a great deal for the development there in the way of rebuilding and maintaining roads and developing his own property as well to make it an attractive home site, and that section will certainly miss his activities in this respect, should he close the attractive deal with which he is now presented.

Sealed Verdict in Negligence Suit

Friday morning the summation in the $100,000 negligence action brought by Mrs. Florence S. Connor as executrix of the estate of Harry Connor, husband, against Ralph M. Thompson of Pine Hill and Brooklyn was presented to the jury which heard the evidence. The summation by counsel occupied the morning session and the charge to the jury by Judge Staley was not concluded and the case finally sent to the jury until 1 o'clock. At that time the jury was instructed to consider the case and when it arrived at a verdict, to write the verdict out, sign it and present it at the opening of court Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

John W. Eckert tried the case for Kiriln, Woolsey, Campbell, Hickox and Keating while Mr. Carter and A. J. Cook appeared for Earl S. Jones, attorney of record for the defendant. Mr. Connor was killed while riding as a guest in the Thompson automobile which was being driven by Miss Jane Thompson.

CHINA FAMINE CONDITIONS AFFECT 10,250,000 PEOPLE

Nanking, China, March 16 (AP).—Three Chinese provinces have 14,250,000 people suffering from famine conditions, the minister of public health reported today on his return from the provinces of Shensi, Kansu, and Honan.

His trip was made to investigate reports of distress there and advise the central government as to the best steps to be taken to meet the situation. He found Shensi had 6,250,000 famine sufferers, Honan 7,500,000 and Kansu 2,500,000.

Big Four May Succeed Olvany as Tammany Head

Tammany Head Unexpectedly Resigns—His Health Given as Cause—Stated That Clash in Tammany Led to Resignation—Gov. Smith Surprised.

New York, March 16 (AP).—George W. Olvany, leader of Tammany Hall since the death of Charles F. Murphy five years ago, has resigned. While ill health was given as the reason, there was much speculation today about the matter.

In some well-informed quarters the belief was expressed that the destinies of the organization would be entrusted to four men, pending actual selection of a chief.

The "big four" is former Governor Alfred E. Smith, United States Senator Robert F. Wagner, Surrogate James A. Foley and former Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah T. Mahoney. Half a dozen men, prominent in the affairs of the wigwam have been mentioned as Olvany's successor, but it was admitted that it was a bit too early to discuss this matter seriously. Mahoney, who has been put forward as leader by some admirers, refused to take the suggestion seriously.

Nothing will be done, it was generally agreed, until the "big four" and other stalwarts have had time to gather around the conference table and thrash out the various problems involved.

Tammany Braves Keep Silent

Tammany is not noted for discussing its internal affairs with the outside world, and few of the bravest could be found today who were willing to lend their names to any announcements.

The resignation was submitted yesterday by letter at a meeting of the executive committee of Tammany Hall. A member of the committee is designated leader of Tammany Hall.

The Times said the letter read substantially as follows: "Because of ill health and on the advice of my physicians I resign as leader of Tammany Hall." The committee deferred action on the resignation till next Friday. Olvany was at the meeting. He urged increased membership in a speech before his letter was read.

Evening World Offers Explanation.

New York, March 16 (AP).—The Evening World says today that a clash in Tammany Hall led to the resignation of George W. Olvany, leader of the organization.

The resignation was brought about by two things, says the paper. The first was said to be dissatisfaction among the district leaders with an executive session some time after election, when one of them had the temerity to say the leader was not paying as much attention to the affairs of Tammany Hall as he was to his law practice.

"At that session Mr. Olvany said he was willing to resign and the organization was welcome to name another leader. This suggestion resulted in several sayings that was not what was wanted.

"The second reason advanced was that the Republicans had been digging up records for use in the coming mayoralty campaign, and had compiled a list of court cases handled by the law firm with which the leader of Tammany Hall had been associated, with the disposition of these cases as related to city departments.

"Classifications of cases in some instances carried with it the implication that, when the Olvany law firm's name appeared on the legal papers in a suit, the break seemed to be against the other side.

"It further was said that the fusion people therefore had decided not to make Mayor Walker, but Olvany, the paramount issue in the campaign, whether that issue justified it or not, and using material that probably could be explained away outside of a campaign without any difficulty. With Olvany still leader, however, the attack would put Tammany Hall on a defensive it would not enjoy.

"This situation has been discussed at many a meeting of groups of district leaders and the seriousness of it has been recognized."

Gov. Smith Surprised.

Albany, March 16 (AP).—Former Governor Smith today denied any official knowledge of the resignation of George W. Olvany as chief of Tammany Hall and added that the news was "a big surprise" to him. "I don't know anything about it," the titular head of the Democratic party said in his hotel room here this morning. "All I do know is what I have read in the papers this morning. If it is true it is a big surprise to me."

Reports from New York city reaching here today quoted friends of the former governor in that city as saying he had absolutely no intention of seeking the Tammany Hall post himself. His friends said even if he intended aspiring to the post he would be faced with hostility from numerous assembly district leaders in New York city.

Ellsworth Held For Grand Jury

Eastern Stars Welcomed Guests

Friday evening Kingston Chapter, No. 155, Order of the Eastern Star, officially received Right Worthy Eva VanKirk, district deputy grand matron, and Right Worthy Cyrus T. Clark, assistant grand lecturer of the Greene-Clister district, at its rooms in the Masonic Building, Broadway and Strand. The meeting was preceded by a banquet which was served at 5:30 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel, at which was seated over fifty grand officers and members of the chapter.

At the close of the banquet the grand officers and the other guests of the chapter proceeded to the chapter rooms where the regular meeting was held. The rooms had been artistically decorated for the event, the East representing a spring garden with an arbor covered with flowers.

Nearly every chapter in the Greene-Clister district was represented with large delegations at the meeting, and there was also an exceptionally large attendance of the members of the entertaining chapter.

The grand officers were escorted into the room by Right Worthy Jennie F. S. Main, past district deputy grand matron, acting as grand marshal, and Right Worthy William A. Van Valkenburgh, past assistant grand lecturer, acting as assistant grand marshal, and were received with a most cordial welcome extended by Worthy Matron Marguerite Lencke of Kingston Chapter.

Addresses which were very instructive and inspiring were delivered by the district deputy grand matron and also by the assistant grand lecturer. An addenda, "The Road to Flowerville," was presented by the officers of Kingston Chapter, each officer dressed in a crepe paper costume representing a spring flower.

A huge bouquet of flowers was presented by Right Worthy Eva VanKirk and the chapter's gift to her was a beautiful clock. To the assistant grand lecturer was presented a sum of gold.

During the evening little Miss Rich sang several delightful numbers, and a cornet solo was rendered by George Silkworth. A vocal solo by Miss Byrne, which was excellently sung, brought the program to a close.

Paul Zucca's orchestra rendered a delightful musical program during the evening, and at the close of the meeting a banquet was served. The event will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to have been in attendance.

Cave-in Discloses Old Fire Cistern

Friday a cave-in was discovered at the corner of Fair and Pearl streets, near the Forsyth residence. Men from the board of public works placed a barricade about the hole and later repairs were made. The cave-in was caused by the pavement dropping into one of the old fire cisterns which were placed at frequent points about the city for fire purposes prior to the installing of the city water system. When they came in disuse the cisterns were covered and forgotten. From time to time they made their appearance through a cave-in or in making pavement repairs.

These fire cisterns are brick affairs capable of holding a huge quantity of water. Water from roofs was drained into the cisterns and in times of dry weather they were pumped full from the creek. Water was pumped by hand engine and later by steamers into the nearest cistern and from there in succession to the cisterns at distant points.

Wolf & Scanlon Sever Connections

Lawrence T. Scanlon and Thomas J. Wolf, who for the past year conducted an undertaking business in this city, have dissolved the Wolf & Scanlon partnership and each will continue a business of his own in the future. Mr. Scanlon will have an ambulance service and taxi business in connection with his other line.

YOUNG WOMEN IN RUSH TO PAY INCOME TAXES

New York, March 15 (AP).—Scores of young women secretaries and stenographers were back in their Wall Street offices today after sharing their last year's bonus with Uncle Sam.

Among the huge mass of returns still to be checked today by an army of clerks in the internal revenue department offices were many sent in by girls employed in brokerage houses whose income tax payments reflected the prosperity of the security market.

The unusual number of girls in the long lines which filed through the tax offices as New Yorkers rushed to get under the wire and avoid penalties for late filing was remarked by customs house attaches.

Alabama Rivers Recede, 15,000 Persons Marooned

Numerous Unverified Reports of Deaths, But Known Death List Numbers 12—Measles Break Out in Flood Camps—Air Pilot Observes Persons Working Frantically.

Montgomery, Ala., March 16 (AP). Governor Bibb Graves this morning announced that National Guard planes had taken off for the Geneva flood area with food and serum for the refugees. The planes were expected to reach the Florida line by mid-afternoon.

A radiogram received from an observation plane flying over Geneva at 5 a. m. today said the pilot observed persons working frantically in boats, and that the situation "looks very bad."

Under clearing skies southeastern Alabama with a known death list of twelve, today began to see a recession of the floods that swept through half a dozen small towns, inundated and isolated a score of others and marooned 15,000 persons.

Conditions at Elba, swept by a deluge from Pea river and White Water creek, were improved as also was the case at Brewton, Flomaton, and several other towns. At Geneva, to the south, the situation had become worse with the fate of 2,500 residents of the town in doubt.

Five persons were known to have lost their lives at Elba, two at Flomaton, three at Geneva and two at Andalusia. There are numerous unverified reports of other deaths.

Population Needs Food. Half the population of Elba had been brought out this morning. Those remaining there were not considered in immediate danger, but in need of food and other necessities. National Guardsmen at a rescue base south of Troy said the waters at Elba were receding rapidly.

Refugees arriving from Elba last night told of a night and day of horror spent in attics and upon house tops. Geneva today was the focal point of interest. It had been cut off from communication since yesterday. A last report said water was 16 feet deep in the main street of the town. Several days will be required to repair main arteries highways and railroad facilities washed away in the flood.

No estimates of damage to the state have yet been attempted.

Measles Break Out. Big Creek, Ala., March 16 (AP).—Measles has broken out among refugee children in the Pea River flood camp here. Authorities have taken prompt steps to suppress the disease by injections of anti-toxin and by transferring the refugees from the camp here to Troy.

River Six Miles Wide. Madison Park, Ala., March 16 (AP).—The Alabama River was a solid expanse of water six miles wide here today. The stream was reported at a depth of 54.2 feet, 19.2 feet above flood stage. The water was said to be higher by several inches than in the 1919 flood which caused serious property loss in this section. Madison Park is a suburb about six miles north of Montgomery.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR COMING WEEK

Following is the weather outlook for week beginning Monday:

FORD MOTOR COMPANY OF CANADA STOCK SOARS

New York, March 15 (AP).—Ford Motor Company of Canada common stock today soared up $349 a share to a new high record of $1,159 on the New York curb market, following announcement last night by directors of a proposed 20 for one stock split up. The opening sale was at $1,025, with a block of 400 shares changing hands. The stock usually sells in lots of five and ten shares.

Families Join Children in School. The Elba Consolidated School, the second floor of which has housed the 250 students since water first inundated the town Wednesday, had its occupants swelled by the scores as families poured in seeking shelter on the second floor.

"Many of the children were screaming to be taken out or for food and water. We gave them the latter in such quantities as possible, but made no attempt to remove them from the stanch structure."

"Sight of the airplanes, soaring over the stricken community, dropping provisions, medical supplies and clothing was a welcome one to the refugees. Many of them had gone 48 hours without nourishment and their predicament was appalling. As the planes soared overhead colleges of shots could be heard in all sections as persons attempted to attract the attention of aviators in their direction by firing pistols and shot guns."

"On the return trip I experienced my second boat 'cracking up' under me. We struck a submerged log and our hitherto sturdy craft sank like a rock. Fortunately it was one of the creeks instead of the river into which we found ourselves. We swam across two creeks. "Most of our boats are gone. National Guard officers said only one remains that will give good service."

The Empire State Farmer

(By The Associated Press)

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP).—An intensive campaign for the general improvement of the potato industry in Oneida county has been started by the county farm bureau.

The program calls for enrollment of potato growers who will agree to adopt one or more of the following practices: better seed of standard varieties; seed treatment; spraying or dusting; or better grading.

Plans were laid for the treatment of seed potatoes this spring and for the use of the hot water method of treatment. The outfit for this treatment will be placed at different points in the county to which at least 1,200 or 1,500 bushels a day may be brought for treatment.

Ten demonstration farms will be selected on which the owners will carry out specific recommendations of agriculture specialists and keep cost account records of the various operations. These figures will be compared with the cost on farms where the recommended practices are not being followed.

To square accounts with her owners and pay for her feed and board, a hen must lay 120 eggs a year, compared with 100 a few years ago, according to Professor James L. Hetherington, head of the Poultry Department, Cornell University.

Agriculture's place in the program of the Lake Ontario County Association was outlined at a recent meeting of the agricultural commission of the association at Rochester. The program is grouped in five divisions: Regional and Community Planning; Information and Education; Industry, Recreation, and Agriculture. The farm bureaus of Monroe and Wayne counties have affiliated themselves with the association and the importance of agriculture to the section represented will be stressed in future activities of the organization.

Ranking as one of the leading dairy states of the country, New York is naturally at the bottom of the list when it comes to the manufacture of oleomargarine and other butter substitutes.

According to a report of the Department of Commerce at Washington not a single pound of butter substitutes was made in this state during 1927.

In the matter of lipid substitutes, cooking fats and vegetable cooking oils, New York State again is at the bottom of the list, although one such factory was reported.

TORIES SEEK VOTES OF HOUSE SERVANTS

London, March 16 (AP).—Politics for parlormaid is the slogan suggested for British housewives' adoption by enterprising party leaders during the next few months preceding the general election.

At the inauguration in Chelsea town hall of a campaign to "make love" to the 10,000 women servants in the Chelsea district now added to the voting list, conservative party leaders made a vigorous appeal to a large audience of matrons to allow their servants time to attend political meetings so that they may cast their votes intelligently.

Sir Samuel Hoare, the local member of parliament, urged the housewives to stimulate political interest in their servants but not to try to influence their opinions. Nevertheless he hoped that every servant would be apprised of the past work and future plans of the conservative party.

CANON LAW TO MODIFY ITALIAN CIVIL RIGHTS

Rome, March 16 (AP).—Legal experts and jurists the world over are showing interest in the workings of probably the most unusual legal change of modern times—the re-introduction of canon law in Italy, as a result of the new state-Vatican agreement.

By this treaty, the law of the church is restored to go hand in hand with the law of the land. The system of civil law will be modified in religious and moral matters by canon law which will take hold as soon as the agreement is formally ratified by the new Italian Parliament.

Citizens of Italy in future will thus be guided in many of their relations to one another by one of the oldest codes in the world. Canon law was first codified by Gratian in the middle of the twelfth century, but it can be traced practically to the beginnings of the Roman Catholic Church.

The introduction of canon law will mean a number of changes in present regulations, such as those relating to marriage, but since the fundamentals of canon and civil law are practically the same, Italians can carry on as before, without much fear of interference.

Canon law is important the world over, because in so many countries it is either the foundation of their civil laws or contributed a great part of their provisions. England owes to canon law a great debt during the formative period of English common law in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, and America owes a like debt through its transplantation of the common law.

Canon law is formed first of all from the Scriptures, particularly from the code enunciated by Jesus Christ. Some of the Old Testament principles, such as the Ten Commandments and some lesser regulations, such as the degrees of relationship within which marriage cannot be contracted, have been retained, but most of the canon law comes from the New Testament. Added to this basis are the laws of the church, made by the popes and the episcopate. The earlier pronouncements of the popes were contained in letters. In later years these have been called Bulls.

In recent years canon law has usually been added to by legislation prepared by Congregations or Committees of Cardinals, working under the Roman Curia, and approved by the Pope. These pieces of legislation are known as Acta Sanctae Sedis, or "Acts of the Holy See."

Canon law has had a tremendous effect on almost all relations of mankind by its constant pressure during almost two thousand years. It assisted the church in bettering the condition of slaves and in working for their freedom. It gave children a higher status than that of chattels of their father. It made woman free. It made will more just by the rule that a man could not will away his whole estate and ignore his widow and children.

Canon law is the foundation, too, for the modern view of contracts. To canon law the lawyers of today owe much of their methods of legal procedure, and the judges much of their system of jurisprudence.

YOUNG CHINESE LEADERS ARE EAGER TO PROGRESS

Foochow, China, March 16 (AP).—The civil government of this coastal province of Fukien is rapidly passing into the hands of young Chinese, most of whom were educated in America.

The slogan of these youthful administrators is reform, change, progress. The latest attempt on their part to upset the customs of centuries is to forbid foot-binding among women.

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press.)

Schenectady, (AP).—Merle A. Motrop, the air mail pilot who saved the lives of two children trapped in a burning house at Silver Creek, Chautauque county, has received a letter of thanks from the Silver Creek Chamber of Commerce, addressed to his employers, congratulating them on their employment of "men of such high calibre."

Garden City, (AP).—Garden City policemen are provided with a reading room, billiard table, radio, lounge room with coats, shower baths, indoor target range and handball court. According to Chief A. T. Conran, these recreation facilities not only help to make the policemen contented but make them more interested in their department and therefore better policemen.

New York, (AP).—In 1927, in the five counties of the metropolitan area there were 4,081 convictions for felonies and indictable offenses, and 7,056 convictions for misdemeanors, according to the latest figures of the State Department of Correction.

Schenectady, (AP).—The Semi-annual Empire State Typographical Conference will be held here, March 23 and 24. Thirty delegates are expected, representing every city in the state.

SPAIN BUILDS ARMY AIRSHIP FOR TRAINING

By ROBERT M. BERRY
Associated Press Correspondent

Guadalajara, Spain, March 16 (AP).—Spain, hitherto somewhat indifferent to the development of dirigibles, has decided to keep pace with other nations in this respect and is constructing a big airship in the military aeronautic works near here.

The only military airship ever owned by Spain was the Espana, of the Astra type, which made its last flights in the beginning of 1913. As the result of the experiences of the great war, airships were abandoned for army purposes and their use was confined to naval scouting in most European nations. Those which remained them in the army did so generally with the idea of acting for the benefit of commercial flying, especially when transoceanic attempts brought disaster to so many heavier-than-air machines.

About three years ago Spain sent to the United States a well-known military aeronaut and engineer, Enrique Maldonado de Meer. When he returned to Spain he drafted the plans for a non-rigid airship with a capacity of 3,500 cubic meters, the intention being to use it for instructional purposes in the Spanish army.

The construction of this airship was started with the greatest secrecy. It was the intention of the authorities to make the first flight over Madrid on the recent visit of the Spanish monarchs; but owing to their early departure in consequence of the death of the Queen-Mother Maria Christina, the plan was abandoned.

The details of the airship reveal that the envelope is composed of strips of rubberized linen of German manufacture, the edges being overlapped and sewn together. Its practical capacity is 3,200 cubic meters. Its maximum diameter is 34.65 feet and its total length 177.5 feet.

The motors are two Wright whirling winds with air coolers, and each has six cylinders and develops 220 horse power. They are placed on each side of the cabin, which is of elongated shape. Six persons in all can be carried, while there is space for two gasoline and oil tanks, abundant water supply, spare parts, baggage, gear and anchor.

Maldonado has designed a latticed metal mooring mast 32 feet high constructed on a reinforced cement base and furnished at the top with a special arrangement allowing the airship to veer according to the wind. Four cables anchored on the ground would hold the dirigible on a horizontal level.

What the world needs is more permanent wires and less permanent wires.

OLD YANKEE CLIPPER ANCHORS IN THAMES

London, March 16 (AP).—Ancient galleons and American clippers vie for honors in an exhibition of old ships models now drawing crowds of children—and grown-ups, too—to the Friend Ship a beautiful old three-masted vessel which under American auspices, has been anchored in the Thames as a clubhouse.

Among the most interesting exhibits is a model, made in 1730, of an American clipper of the 16-gun corvette type. An Elizabethan galleon nearby makes a striking contrast. Other favorite models are an Italian felucca such as used to fight the Moslem pirates, a two-decker fighting ship of the Nelson type and a model of a Norwegian fruit carrier.

"I reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet"

"Whirling along the ground at 231 miles per hour to a new world's record was a thrilling experience. It was speed in breath-taking fashion. When I finally brought 'The Golden Arrow' to halt, the nerve let-down was terrific. But out came my pack of Lucky Strike and I soon was smoking in complete happiness. After the strain of my ride the toasted fragrance of Luckies was like a tonic. I reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet. I want to keep trim and fit. I want to feel the glow of pep and health at all times—the thought of excess weight really frightens me. I welcome a Lucky instead of sweets and things that would make me soft."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

SPRING STYLES FOLLOW CON-
 SISTENTLY IN THE PATH
 BLAZED BY WINTER.

New York—Confirmation of the overwhelming acceptance of the ensemble is evidenced everywhere. Whether a costume be for morning, afternoon or evening, yes and for night too, it is developed along ensemble lines. Many a pajama has a coat to complete it, and most dance frocks step out in company with a frivolous jacket be it called canino or cocktail. These are being developed in lace rather than spangles, and are to be found among the models designed for the late afternoon, at which hour one admits a formal note and is not adverse to borrowing the best of the ideas exploited for evening. There is, in fact, very little to distinguish the late afternoon frock from the informal dinner gown. Both may omit sleeves, or have most interesting ones. A half hearted attempt was reported from Paris to bring in the elbow sleeve, but this was attempted only by one of the grande maisons.

Lace seems peculiarly fitted for the late afternoon type of frock. Curiously enough the trend is toward tailored lace gowns, while quite the reverse tendency is noted in woolen frocks. The feeling seems to be that softer laces and stuffs of that character, and to exert every effort to soften tweeds and other woollens. This is done in various ways, the application of lingerie touches at neck or wrist being perhaps the most usual. There are details not usually coupled with woollens, introduced now in woolen dresses and these of course have a most feminizing effect upon them.

Novelty woollens remain important this spring. They remain indefinite in design although definite enough in color. When once one thought of wool dresses only in terms of beige and natural tones, now they are as brilliantly colored as Joseph's coat, and often envelope, as many tones. Tweeds and patterned jerseys are among the smart woollens for sturdy usage but of course there are many other interesting fabrics.

Silhouette treatments are varied not to say contradictory. Hemlines still wait and waistlines in some cases are high in the front a direction contradicted by the backview of the gown—still by all odds the most interesting vantage point.

The molded or princess lines continue to prove a magnet but it has many rivals. Coats developed along redingote lines seem likely of acceptance, but then coats have a gratifying way of following along dress lines and have even learned to dip at the back, this being especially true of evening wraps. Deviations from the straight line are the usual thing in coats.

Rebels, Agnes and other of the Paris-milliners are continuing to stress the face-framing hat which is another way of saying that the fitted hat is becoming more necessary. Such hats as have brims have interesting features, treated to several decorative features, scalloped edges being among them. Hats are naturally influenced by dress silhouettes, and in consequence the fisherman, or long back hat has a greater chance of winning. The success of turbans and brimless models generally at Palm Beach argues for them going over big this spring and summer.

Hats like other parts of the costume are frequently in two colors and nearly always of two materials.

Perhaps it is well to lick the kid for lying, but you may be spoiling a good author of resort literature.

Cravat Scarf of Beige Wool Is Smart Feature

Here is a jaunty coat featuring a cravat of beige wool. The coat is fashioned of Indian Baroudaki. Tan and brown felt sports hat and tan pumps and hose complete the ensemble.

Semi-Precious Stones Are Used for Jewelry

Fresh interest is being shown in jewelry made of semi-precious stones. Many of the new pieces are designed especially to go with the new costumes. One pendant consists of a square amethyst joined with links of jade and marcasite, which are suspended on a black silk tubular cord.

Another pendant for wear with the new printed frocks or afternoon ensembles uses a topaz. It is round with a flat surface on one side and a many-faceted one on the other. The rim is a very narrow one of silver, finished with a tiny knob resembling that of a watch. The piece is suspended on either a fine chain or a silk cord.

A pin that may serve different purposes is made of colored crystals in long, straight shapes with each end cut off diagonally. Green, yellow, blue and purple are often combined, or sometimes only two colors or two shades of one color, such as orchid and purple or light and dark green.

Square crystals form a lovely choker which may be worn with evening dresses of different colors. Each stone is finished with a metal band either of silver or white gold and the prongs are almost too tiny to be visible. The stones are of graduated sizes to give a subliminal effect.

Paris Now Uses Light Colors and Materials

A Paris correspondent says that younger girls choose lighter fabrics and lighter colors for dancing this season. Chiffon, georgette and tulle are the favorite materials, and soft light greens, maize, pink, mauve and light blue are in favor.

The American woman's habit of buying hats ready made is always a source of amazement to the Parisian, who takes it for granted that the acquisition of a new hat must involve several visits to the milliner—a preliminary consultation, with one or two fittings. The fashion in Paris at present is for hats that fit the head almost as closely as wigs, but the question whether or not they shall come well down on the forehead or curve or plant upward a little over the ears, is one that with the French milliner is decided according to the individual.

Natural Flowers Now Favored for Evening

There is a revival of evening flowers, more distinct than ever, and natural ones have the preference, not the orchid, formal shoulder knot worn for years; but roses, carnations, or the always distinguished austerity of creamy white camellias.

If the favorite gown is one of the multitudinous shades of white, the flower fancy may run riot, provided it is discreet and in good taste and does not dip too deeply from the silhouette of the gown.

It is a pretty fancy to match slippers and perhaps fan with the flowers. It shows a care of detail which the well-dressed woman always exemplifies.

The Problem of Making Over Our Old Clothes

There is a growing demand nowadays for clever dressmakers who make a specialty of remodeling out-of-date frocks and wraps. Small wonder when one considers the high price per yard of the material used in many of the frocks within the past few years.

Velvet, metal cloth worth nearly its weight in gold, exquisite brocades and lace tempt us, yet we hesitate to have frocks made from them which will soon come to be useful—unless we can rely on our own skill in making them over or know of an expert who can do this for us.

When he opens his mouth the tongue splits out.

In the opinion of several authorities it is the cape, rather than the coat which registers as most interesting this year. Capes, like coats, are any length the wearer sees fit to have them. They are seen as often for evening, as they are for motorizing or for sports generally.

Tweeds and novelty fabrics including patterned jerseys, and a vast number of attractive knitted materials are used for the out of town sports suit. Plaids and checks have high rating. The practice of using contrasting materials is very general in sports as well as in all phases of fashion.

What Will Be Seen at the Altar This Spring

THE EASTER BRIDE ARRAYS HERSELF AND MAIDS IN TULLE OR POINT D'ESPRI

New York—The Easter bride again has the center of the stage. Her desire to be at her loveliest on the day of days is an inspiration to designers to make her dream come true.

Spring finds her loath to give up the traditional satin, but inclined to dally with the idea of wearing tulle or taffeta because the average bride cannot see the wisdom of wearing a frock which must be laid away after the ceremony.

Tulle is almost as traditional as satin, and of the several tulle now in vogue there is added the delightful possibility of using point d'esprit, a fabric as elfin—in quality as its name. The entire bridal party in point d'esprit is a suggestion for an Easter wedding. Delicate pastel shades are possible for the attendants while the bride may choose milky white. The same idea might of course be carried out in tulle, and a little sleuthing about among smart outfitters of bridal parties, leads to the conclusion that tulle is by far the most approved material for spring wedding processions, even though the bride clings to satin.

White pastel tones are charmingly used, the preference runs decidedly to combination of yellow and green, and to dresses, the skirts of which are frilled or ruffled and the backs of which all but sweep the aisle. Wide berthas, or capelets have come into vogue and solve the problem of covering the arm. Pastel suede gloves have been successfully launched for evening at some of the Paris openings and are suggested as another attractive detail of the bridesmaid's costume.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

KNITTED SPORTS CLOTHES MAKE A STRONG APPEAL TO SMART FOLK.

New York—There is always a soft spot in the hearts of smart women for knitted suits. It is true they approve them only for travel and for so called sports wear, but this field is one in which women of leisure spend many happy hours, and are determined to be dressed as attractively as possible.

Tricot fabrics have become the backbone of sports wear, and the cardigan costume as well as the sweater are accepted everywhere women are assembled for outdoor pleasures.

The three-quarter coat is a sports entry although it is the cardigan and short jacket suit which is most representative of the season. Sports costumes are however so frequently in three or even four sections that one may include a top coat even in an ensemble already completed by a coat or cardigan.

From the Riviera comes a sensational report of the appearance of "patch work" jackets. These are made often of striped jersey and are designed to be worn over tennis dresses which are sleeveless as were those worn in our own resorts.

Belgrade, March 16 (AP)—King Alexander's dictatorship has made plans for the conclusion of commercial treaties with Bulgaria, Turkey, Rumania and Spain. A friendly foreign policy marks the regime.

Zagreb (AP)—The police were recently called to eject ghosts from a private dwelling. A landlady on Gundulitchera street complained that mischievous spirits were frightening her tenants.

Paris (AP)—The communist "red belt" encircling Paris is being tightened. Communists now control the city halls of Cligny, St. Ouen, St. Denis and several smaller suburbs.

Cannes, France (AP)—Years may pass before the body of the late Grand Duke Nicholas comes to rest. Friends say that he expressed a wish not to be buried in any country which recognized the Soviet regime.

Havana, Cuba (AP)—The census bureau finds that Cuba's population is 3,598,933. Havana, city and province combined, give residence to 949,611 persons.

Yokohama, Japan (AP)—Daughters of the American Revolution, who happened to be passengers on a world cruise aboard the Belgian-land, formed a special "cruise chapter" of the organization. They claim it is unique.

News from the World on Wheels

In a survey of ten of the larger cities in the United States by Auburn, phenomenal percentages of increased sales of straight-eight automobiles is shown. New York city, admitted to be the crucial test city of an automobile's performance, leads the list with an increase for February 1929 over February 1928 of 434 per cent in sales of Auburn straight-eight models. Buffalo is second with an increase of 300 per cent and Chicago third with 164 per cent increase. The seven other cities and their increases in the sale of Auburn straight-eights are: Cleveland, 154 per cent; Boston, 86; Pittsburgh, 86; New Orleans, 75; Los Angeles, 74; Indianapolis, 34; and Philadelphia, 13. Remarkable increase in sales in the Auburn Six, which lists at $995 in these ten cities are also recorded.

Tests conducted by Willys-Overland engineers at proving grounds in various sections of the country for many months prior to the introduction of the Superior Whippet Six, disclose an unusually high speed and power development which sets a new standard of outstanding performance in the light six field. Many of these tests were conducted on Lookout Mountain and Signal Mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn.; Tuscarora Mountain at Chambersburg, Pa. and in numerous metropolitan cities—the latter to test the Whippet's activity in heavy city traffic. The result of the speed tests showed a considerably higher top speed than was obtainable in the former Whippet Six models, while ability to easily climb steep mountain grades was outstanding.

HEADACHE MISTAKES

The greatest mistake the casual sufferer from headaches can make is to consider the headache as the whole of his trouble. In the majority of cases, the headache is but a symptom of greater trouble developing elsewhere in the system—a trouble, which if not corrected, may become an incurable condition.

One of the common causes of headaches is constipation. Constipation permits the development in the intestines of harmful poisons, which, when absorbed by the blood, stupefy and otherwise injure the delicate brain cells in such a manner that one has what is called a headache. For this constipation to continue, with its resulting formation of injurious toxins, not only are headaches produced, but every part of one's body is harmed. There is grave danger when this condition is allowed to go on and on.

Chiropractic is the one health method which gets results in a logical manner. It directly reaches the CAUSE of your headaches.

WASHDAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

MEN hang their trousers on the outer wall.
And women hang their washing on the line.
Men make the speeches, send the trumpet call,
And wave the flag, and that is very fine;
And yet I often think this land of mine
Needs washdays more than most days, after all.

To me there never was a prettier sight
Than Monday morning with the washings out,
The linen, and the cotton, clean and white,
The mud and soot and clinders put to rest—
While all the men do it to sit about
And talk of wrongs, but never make them right.

The nation needs a washday, seems to me,
A washday in the senate, and a tub
In every great municipality,
And then some more, and some one there to rub.
The women yet will give this land a scrub—
And that's the washday that I long to see.

WHY WE GO TO COLLEGE

THERE are more college students in the United States than in all the rest of the world combined. Many colleges are forced to limit their numbers.

Social pressure is the chief motive for going to college. There are a number of minor or more immediate reasons such as athletics, culture, prestige, self-improvement, a desirable position, etc. Usually several of these drive motivate the student.

Traditionally college was the place to find wisdom and culture and only those who wanted "higher learning" and could absorb it went. Presumably there are still a few who go to college for that purpose. But with the introduction of many new courses leading to good positions or motives for going to college have entered the breast of the student.

One prominent motive for going to college is to gain social recognition and prestige. The college contacts and friendships are a great aid in "climbing." Those who go to college for this reason usually select the institutions that have the greatest prestige in the hope of capitalizing the reputation of the great college.

Not infrequently able-bodied fellows go to college for the primary purpose of making the varsity team. The college athlete is looked upon as a hero. This incentive is the most effective form of social pressure.

There are also those who go to college because it is the thing to do. The tide moves in that direction and they are carried along with it. They are victims of suggestion and imitation. They have no idea what it is all about. They are in college because they happen to be there. Many of them are "sent" to college.

Some go to college for a liberal education, for culture, some go for lack of something else to do, some for social standing and prestige, some for self-improvement, some to get a desirable job; all go because of social pressure.

Largest Hanger to House

New Drighbles at Akron

AKRON, Ohio.—Spokane of the world's largest hanger, which will house the construction of the United States navy's two giant dirigibles, is now well under way.
The new hanger, which will be 1,500 feet long, 235 feet wide and 200 feet high, is being built at the newly established Akron airport, less than a mile from the main factories of the Goodyear Rubber company. Akron was chosen as the site of the Goodyear-Zeppelin project after more than two years of discussion which involved consideration of Cleveland, Los Angeles and St. Louis.

Although the Goodyear company has constructed more than 100 dirigible airships here in the last twelve years, the two new navy air vessels will be the first of the Zeppelin rigid type ever undertaken by an American concern.

Bulgaria Chooses Village to Honor Unknown Hero

Sofia.—Bulgaria is the last of all belligerent nations to perpetrate the memory of her unknown soldier.
Unlike the other countries which erected impressive temples as a national tribute to their unnamed warrior, Bulgaria, which is essentially an agricultural nation, has selected the picturesque small town for the site of this monument, because most of those who fell on the field of honor for a "Greater Bulgaria" came from the villages.

The monument to Bulgaria's unknown soldier has been erected in the village of Dorkova, near Sofia. It is in the form of a towering obelisk resting on a white marble pedestal.

Hendricks Glad Season Will Not Open for a Month

Orlando, Fla., March 16 (AP).—Manager John C. Hendricks of the Cincinnati Reds is glad the National League season will not open for a full month and that he will have 60 days after that to reduce his active personnel to 25 players. The manager resembles the old lady who lived in a shoe. He has so many pitchers and outfielders he doesn't know what to do. He has 25 for the mound and outer defenses with few of them palatable in seeing major league places.

Manager Hendricks also would like to know how good Val Picinich will be in 1923. The clever catcher had his best year in 1922, catching nearly 100 games and batting over .300 for the first time in his major league experience. If Picinich, who has been slow to start and has lost the benefit of early training, can repeat his last season's performance, Jack believes his club is as good as in the first division.

If President John A. Hendrick's proposed pitchers' batsmen plan could be applied to catchers, Cincinnati would have no further worries over completing the staff to assist Picinich. Leo Dixon, great defensive catcher, could do the receiving with Hugh McMillen, able batsman, doing the hitting. This however, would make no provision for Clyde Sukeforth, who was on the club last year.

No chance will be made in the infield. Long George Kelly will play first, unthreatened by his co-workers of last season, Wally Pipp, Huzhey Citz, promoter, and captain of the ship at second, and Horace Ford at short will have a chance to smash their record-breaking double play performance. Charlie Dreesen is the leading candidate for third base in the absence of Joe Stripp, convalescing from an appendicitis operation.

The outfield assignments are not so easy. Three recruits have shown ability and five of last year's outfielders are back. Only one, Jack Hill, a California University player, seems a year or two away. Crabtree, Swanson and Shaner certainly have a chance to push the former regulars completely out of the picture, although the ability of Curtis Walker to play the treacherous Cincinnati right field places him in better position to defend his place than his fellows. Crabtree has hit well in the spring games, suggesting that his .353 average of Oklahoma City can be taken seriously. Shaner from Chattanooga of the Southern Association and Swanson of the Mission Club of the Pacific Coast League have not been far behind the younger player.

Ethan Allen, Marty Callaghan, Bill Zimman, Kid Purdy and Walker are the veterans back. Although Allen, still a youngster, played good ball in 1922 and the belligerent Purdy is useful, much water may flow under the baseball bridge before the outfield situation is shaken down.

Cincinnati lost the services of two good pitchers, Red Lucas and Adolph Luque, last season, and Manager Hendricks thinks it unlikely that he will be visited by such a catastrophe again. Pete Donohue was late starting and Jack thinks the team will be able to move off in high gear this year. Eppa Rixey, May, another southpaw, much lighter than a year ago, and Ray Kolph, complete the veterans.

Roy Meeker, formerly with the Athletics, may make the major league grade at last after serving long years in the minors. Ken Ash, farmed to Columbus, has returned with more experience.

One of the youngsters coming up full of hope and confidence the work of Silas Johnson, graduate of Rock Island in the Mississippi Valley League, has been impressive. Johnson, who is not yet 21 years of age, seems wise in pitching beyond his years, although he has been graduated from the Class D League.

Bill Kemper, who pitched for New Haven last year and was almost overlooked by the majors, was bought from Newark by Cincinnati and has a great chance to make good. Another prospect is Marvin Gudat, who was drafted after he had a trial with the Cardinals and was sent to Dayton. There are others anxious to make their possession of Cincinnati uniforms permanent.

From the abundance of talent, Jack Hendricks should get an adequate pitching staff and able outfield but the task is likely to require some time. He may need the three months available.

WITH THE BALL CLUBS

(By The Associated Press)

Los Angeles, Cal.—If the Cubs can't get pitching, they say it with hits.

Their hurriers, Root, Horne and Bush, were pounded for 14 hits by Los Angeles in yesterday's exhibition game, but the Cubs won, 14 to 10, with 17 safeties. Rogers Hornsby and "Kiki" Cuyler got three hits, including a homer, apiece.

Fort Worth, Texas.—The Chicago White Sox have met their first setback of 1923.

After defeating the Dallas Steers four straight, they bumped against Fort Worth yesterday and were on the short end of a 10 to 9 decision.

Paso Robles, Cal.—Donie Bush's Pittsburgh Pirates went to Monterey yesterday and set down the San Francisco Seals, 2 to 0, in a game that would have made a dyed-in-the-wool fan happy in mid-season.

Avon Park, Fla.—A wallowing single by a recruit infielder, Delker, gave the St. Louis Cardinals the winning run in a 7 to 6 exhibition contest with the Washington Senators here yesterday. Hafee and Bottomley also enjoyed a good day with the stick.

Phoenix, Ariz.—An indication of what the Detroit Tiger battlefront is to be this season was given yesterday when 23 men were named for the exhibition trip to the coast. The pitchers are Lefty Barnes, Fred Homme, Carroll, Yde, Uhle, Whitehill, Sorrell, Smith, Vangilder and Gibson. The catching is to be handled by Shea, Woodall and Hayworth.

Infielders will include Heilmann and Alexander, first; Gehring and Harris, keystones; Schube, shortstop, and McManus, third. Stone, Johnson, Rich and Fothergill were the outfielders.

San Antonio, Texas.—John McGraw and the New York Giants like San Antonio so well they've decided to train here for the next three years.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Sam Byrd, the best golfer the New York Yankees have, broke up the game against the Braves yesterday. With the bases full, the young left fielder cracked out a sizzling single that drove in two runs and put the Yanks ahead. Then a moment later he came in with the tally that proved the deciding one of the 5 to 4 contest.

Trojans A. C. DEFEAT PORT EWEN MEN'S CLUB

Thursday evening the fast stepping Trojans journeyed across the creek where they defeated the Port Ewen Men's Club to the tune of 44-34. The winners got the lead early in the game and maintained it throughout. The Trojans caged the ball from all angles of the court. Kieffer of the victorious quintet was the highest scorer of the game with 20 points to his credit and Thomas and Robins next with 11 and 9 respectively.

The Trojans will play the Clinton Avenue Intermediates at Epworth Hall this evening.

Connie Mack to Try Again With The Same Players

Fort Myers, Fla., March 16 (AP).—Connie Mack, active and cheerful in spite of nearly half a century in baseball, will attempt to win an American League pennant for Philadelphia with practically the same players who failed by a narrow margin last year.

Manager Mack will rearrange his men to some extent but no new faces will appear in the regular lineup. Every indication, however, points to one new pitcher and if the young man about to be struck by the major league lightning has a great deal of him.

This promising recruit, Bill Breckenridge, late of Dartmouth, may be the only player who will have to be introduced at Shibe Park. The other youngsters who have a chance to stick, have been there before.

"Breck" as he is affectionately addressed by the other players, has not yet been called on to show specifications for a curve ball, but there is little doubt that he has everything else a pitcher needs. A husky lad, he whips his fast one through with easy control and for a young man short of his majority, he displays extraordinary coolness on the mound.

Assignment of the versatile Jimmy Fox, of the extra x Foxes, to first base will cause a revision of the infield plans. Max Bishop would have been renominated at second base without opposition, but he showed a disinclination to sign. He may get so far behind in training that he will not be able to catch up. In such an event Jimmy Dykes, who plays anywhere he finds himself, will perform at second, with Joe Boley at short, and Sammy Hale at third. If Bishop gets in at second, Dykes still may get a chance at a regular job by forcing Hale from third base to utility status. Joe Hassler and Eddie Collins again will stand by for infield emergencies. Nick Borelli, the Muhlenberg athlete, needs more experience.

The outfield of last season's close has been brought over intact, with Albert Simmons, George Haas and Bing Miller in undisputed possession of the field. Homer Summa, former Cleveland outfielder, will be a reserve assisted by Ossie Orwoll, who was a pitcher last year, and first baseman this spring. As a first baseman he is said to have resembled a good outfielder or left handed pitcher. Redman Hume, Southern Methodist football player, and John Scott, Mercer University product and protégé of the Fort Myers Kiwanis Club, are not yet ready.

Mickey Cochrane, the most valuable player in the American League by official verdict, will do the bulk of the catching, but Cy Perkins is available as first aid. Perkins has the happy faculty of thriving on idleness, and even after an absence of a month from the game he can go on and catch "cold" without his work suffering.

Bob Grove, George Walberg and Howard Ehmke, John Quinn, Eddie Rommel and George Earnshaw will be the chief dependance in the pitching department; with Breckenridge, Stewart Bolen, Carroll Yerkes and Bill Shores available for relief roles. If Breckenridge's curve passes all the tests, he may become a starter.

John Picus Quinn, who will be 44 years of age the day after the Fourth of July, is one of baseball's most interesting stars. John Picus in his later years is developing more speed. He is still somewhat short of Grove's sensational fast ball, but the old man seems to be noticeably faster than he was a few seasons ago. He also has one of the few surviving spitballs in the game. The senior pitcher of the major leagues in 1922 compiled a pitching percentage of more than .700 and had an earned run average of less than three runs to the game, so with speed this year he should do no worse.

Earnshaw prepared carefully for the campaign, preceding the training camp work with baths and exercises at Hot Springs, Ark. and Manager Mack expects consistent work from the former orator. The other pitchers have rounded into shape without suffering injuries. The only casualty in the Athletic camp has been Joe Boley, who has been slowed in his work by a sore arm. Eddie Collins, who keeps a paternal eye on the infielders, has restricted his practice to a minimum while waiting for the arm to respond to treatment.

The Athletics have plenty of confidence and hope to do better than they did last year. One department in which improvement is expected is that of double plays. If the runners up had been more adept at getting two at once, they might have won the American League championship.

Racers Of 1923 Counted Split Seconds, Too

Twenty-five years have brought amazing changes in racing automobiles. Above is shown the lineup of an early day speed trial at Daytona Beach. "The Pirate" (center), owned by R. E. Olds, was one of those that scooted over the beach sands in 1903. Below is Major H. O. D. Segrave's "Golden Arrow", which has set a new world speed record of 231.36245 miles an hour.

Daytona Beach, Fla. (AP).—A second's time today means much more than it did a quarter of a century ago—at least, it does to automobile racers.

Major H. O. D. Segrave of England, present holder of the world's speed title, gained it here March 11 when his low hung "Golden Arrow" roared down the sands for an average speed of 231.36245 miles an hour.

That was much faster than the speed attained last year by Ray Keck of Philadelphia, who took the title with a speed of 207.552 miles an hour. Yet if Segrave had clipped only one second off Keck's record his feat would have been acclaimed. Keck, in fact, had taken only .05 of a second off the former record of 206.956 held by Captain Malcolm Campbell of England. And Campbell, in setting that record, had nosed out Major Segrave by .27 of a second.

Back in 1903, when beach racing first was inaugurated here with a galaxy of antiquated gasoline, electric and steam driven automobiles, Alexander Winton startled the world by sending his "Bullet" racer roaring over the beach speedway at the rate of a mile in 52 1-5 seconds. That was speed in those days, but subsequent record holders had little difficulty in clipping one or several seconds from the record marks.

The old original beach record making "Pirate", owned by R. E. Olds, pioneer manufacturer and driver who was one of the first to enter racing events here 25 years ago, would present a humorous comparison to the huge "Golden Arrow" which Segrave drove to the present record.

The "Pirate" was a tiny, chain-driven car, without a body and mounted on small tired bicycle wheels with the driver's seat suspended from the frame in the rear, unprotected from the wind.

Astronomical Term

A "light year" is the term employed in astronomy to indicate the distance a ray of light traveling 186,000 miles a second can traverse in a year. Thus one can easily compute the distance of the present outermost visible limits of space which are estimated to be 100,000,000 light years away from the earth.—Exchange.

A. W. Mollott, Wall street clothesier, has completed alterations on the two upper floors of his building at 392 Wall street. Modern apartments have been installed on the second and third floors and the apartments are now ready for occupancy. The front apartment on the second floor is now occupied by Dr. S. After much deliberation and planning, we have decided to close our Stationery Business at 32 Main St., devoting our entire time to the Automobile, Radio, Filing Cabinets, Paper Towels and other associated lines.

At the time we purchased the interests of Mrs. Forsyth we were of the impression we could handle both the Automobile and Stationery Business at the same time, but we find it is too much to handle and give the proper attention to both lines of business, therefore we have decided to close our Stationery Store. Being unable to sell this stock out in the bulk, we have secured the services of a sales expert—a man that makes a business of closing out stocks of this kind. The selling of this stock is in his hands with orders to sell in the shortest time possible.

But we want you to know that every price made and every word is vouched for by us.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY MARCH 18 AND 19 OUR STORE WILL REMAIN CLOSED

It is absolutely necessary that our store remain closed all day Monday and Tuesday, so as to give us the needed time to mark down every item in this big stock. Remember that this is a complete Close Out, a super selling sensation that will double and triple your former expectations.

Sale Opens Wed. Morning at 9 a.m.

Story of Noah's Flood Supported

Scientific Research Expedition Unearths Layer of Silt and Clay Beneath Which Was Evidence of Highly Developed Civilization.

New York, March 15 (AP).—The Biblical story of Noah's flood today had the support of material evidence unearthed by science.

Returning from an archaeological expedition to Mesopotamia, Professor C. Leonard Woolley reported discovery of an eight-foot layer of silt and clay which he declares was deposited during an overflowing of the Euphrates River, known in Biblical and legendary accounts as the deluge.

Professor Woolley headed an expedition of the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania and the British Museum which, with a crew of 150 Arab workmen, has been engaged for seven years in excavating the ruins of ancient Sumeria.

Penetrating through a layer of evidence indicating a highly developed civilization of about 4000 B. C., he said, they suddenly came upon a layer of silt or sand in which all manifestations of human life ceased to exist.

Beneath this deposit unmistakable trace of another civilization emerged. The evidence, he said, consisted of potteries and utensils in the native fashion and expertly moulded bricks, indicating a high peak of cultural development.

Professor Woolley emphasized that he attempted to prove nothing by his findings. "We are not out to prove anything," he said. "If we were we would be bad archaeologists. We, as scientists, use the things we dig up with any other kind of information which may be forthcoming. In this case the previous information was in Genesis and in the Sumerian and Babylonian legends."

Professor Woolley said his discovery would indicate that the flood was not universal, but declared "neither does the Bible story, properly understood, make any such claim."

The expedition has ceased work because of the impending hot season, he said, and will resume again in October.

Alligerville Dance. A St. Patrick's dance will be held at Knights of Pythias Hall, Alligerville, tonight. The hall will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. Maiseholder's orchestra of this city will furnish music. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.
